

The fifth edition of:

April 15, 2006

11:00 am - 4:00 pm
Lenart Auditorium
(below the Fowler Museum)

Ancient Egyptian Technology

This will be another fascinating afternoon. UCLA students will present their projects, consisting of an experiment related to an aspect of ancient technology, and the questions raised during their investigations.

Subjects include Armor, Jewelry, Make-up, Metal, Mummification, Perfume, Pigments and Throwing sticks.

Now is your chance to see, hear, smell and feel a little bit of Ancient Egypt...

Entrance free. Parking $ 8,=

(Parking lot 4, off Sun Set Blvd., crossing with Westwood)

For more information: wendrich@humnet.ucla.edu